Overview

One never knows why a Jew comes to the synagogue -- what s/he may be searching for, what may ultimately touch a person's soul. As a hazzan, I am privileged to help others explore their Judaism, and discover the depth and beauty of our tradition.

Whether leading services, teaching, pastoral work - or any of the varied ways a hazzan interacts with the community - I strive to help others explore and deepen their relationship to Judaism, the Jewish people, and to G-d.

My services combine contemporary and traditional participatory melodies around a framework grounded in nusach, the traditional liturgical chant of our musical heritage.

Finally, I try to model my calling as a hazzan – and my daily life -- on the rabbinic dictum we recite each morning in our daily prayers:

L'olam y'hei adam –
First and foremost, be a mensch...

LETTERS AND COMMENTS

Cantor Gale has been a key in my Jewish journey: he is the one who taught me to read Hebrew on his spare time, he always brought up questions to challenge my spiritual thinking and encouraged me to ask questions at all times. As far as I can remember, Daniel showed kindness and concerns to everything I would submit to him, every question I've had, spiritual, personal or intellectual. Beside his cheerful personality, I have learned so much with our cantor and every class I attended with him brought more knowledge and made me think deeper. I found him to be a wonderful teacher... I know he has so much more to teach to many of us who attend his classes. I want to add that Cantor Gale is one of the rare persons I have known who always seemed to refocus my attention on how to become a better person and on the spiritual aspect of practical matters.

Genieve Begue, TBE congregant

Cantor,

Thank you for the amazing job you're doing with Avi. He really looks forward to his lessons, is truly engaged and was announcing his intention to do the most he could in the car yesterday.

Lilli put on her camp form in answer to the question "what do you want to learn at camp": haftorah...I attribute this directly to your warmth and inclusiveness to the kids and our family in general. You are a bright spot at TBE and we're lucky to have you.

Have a wonderful vacation,
Jessica Goldstein/TBE Congregant

"I am especially appreciative of your great musical talent and artistic integrity, your wonderful voice, your unflinching commitment to collaboratively working with me to refine the solo part, and your deep knowledge of Hazzanut...Your wonderful and inspired performance at the premier was indeed a highlight of the evening, and one of the most important elements in the success of the event."

Composer Laurence Sherr

Dear Cantor Gale,

Howard and I want to express our gratitude for the amazing contribution that you have made in our lives, our Temple family and the Birmingham Jewish community at large.

As you know, I regularly attend synagogue services and have studied with you in various settings. My spiritual needs draw me to worship services, without regard to who is on the bima. However, I can honestly say that your presence has touched me spiritually many times over. Your beautiful melodic voice has come to signify that we are in a holy place.

It is under your influence, coupled with your incredible patience and encouragement that I have become a monthly Torah reader. Your lessons have guided me to leyn with more confidence and spirituality. In addition, your classes have inspired me to find new meaning in the holidays and my role as a Jew in the world community. And I vividly recall the first year I served as a Hadassah co-president, when you gave me tips on how to prepare for public speaking!

Most heartwarming was your concern and compassion during the period that Howard struggled with health issues. Both he and I will long remember that you asked about his well being each and every time you saw us.

Many congregants have expressed to me their appreciation of your warmth and caring nature, your sincerity and kindness, whether passing you by the way or in a special time of simcha or crisis. They are aware of the contribution you make by holding programs at the senior communities away from Temple, and your active role in the interfaith community. We are all impressed to see how well you work in all situations, including the transition to a new rabbi, and your capability to lead services, teach and deliver eulogies during the rabbi's absence.

*With warm regards,
Diane Slaughter/TBE Congregant*
